Registration of classes; begins new school year

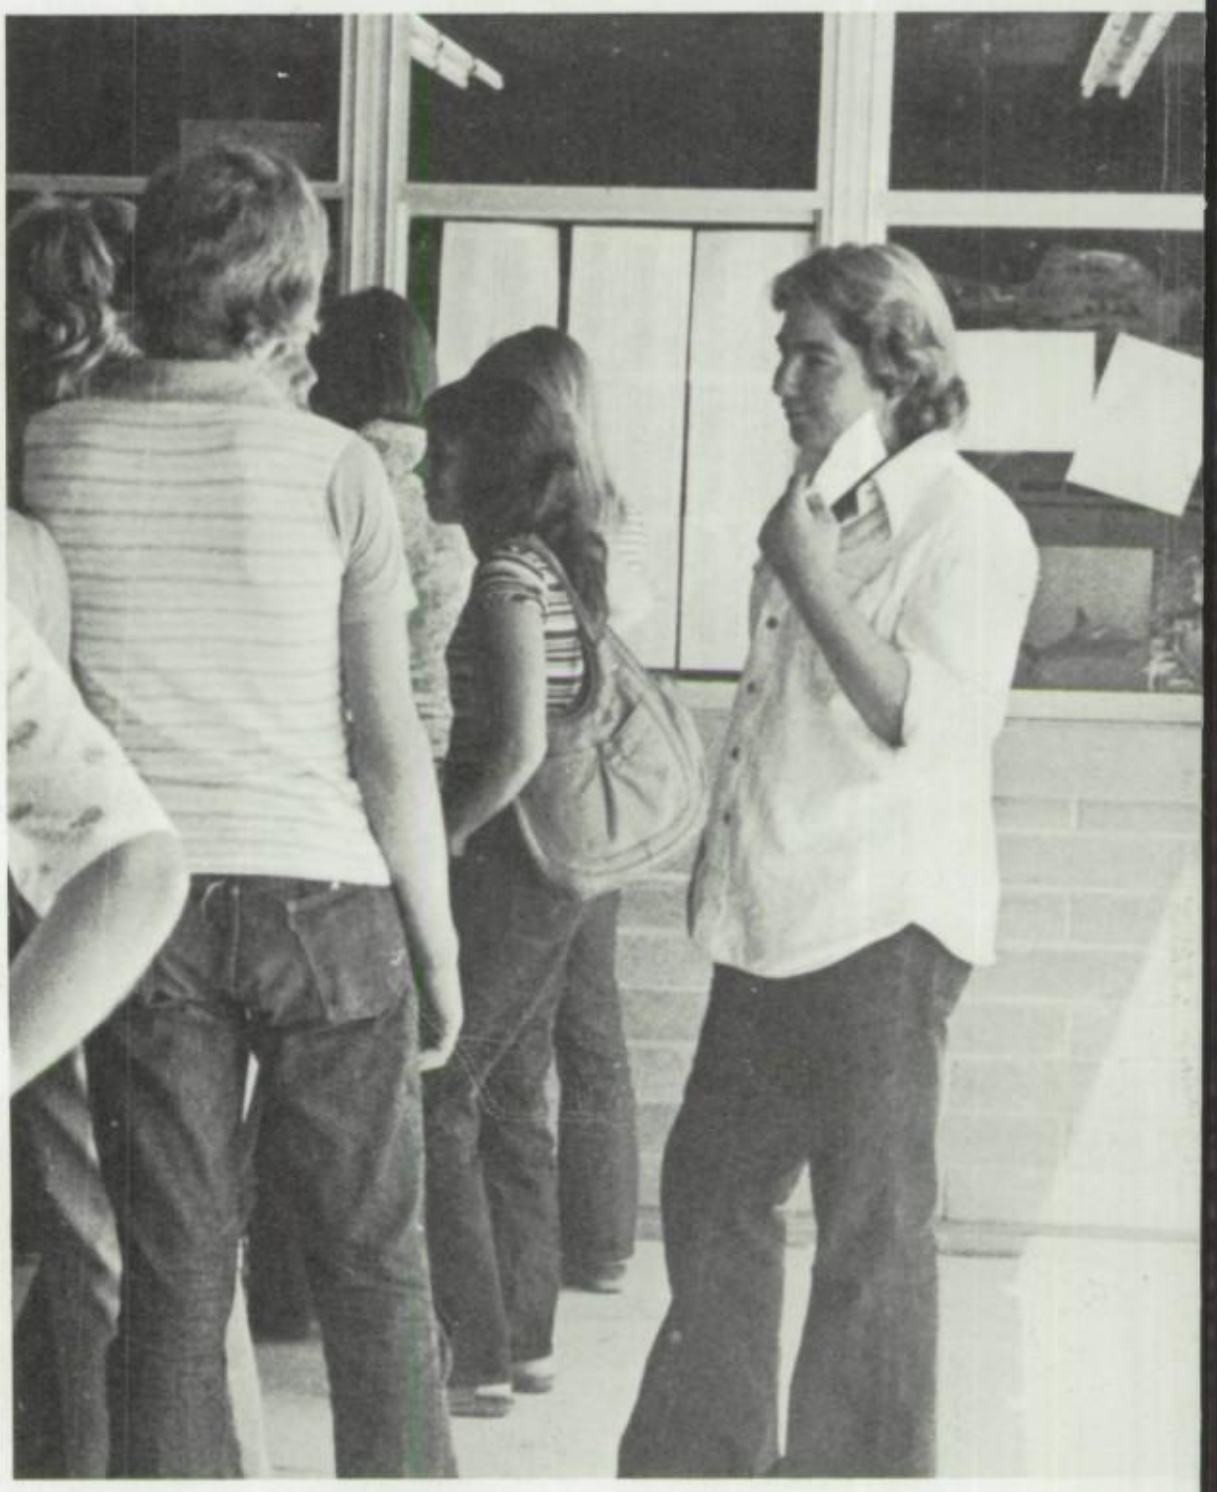
This year could best be described as starting like any other, with registration of classes, and the recognition of old friends.

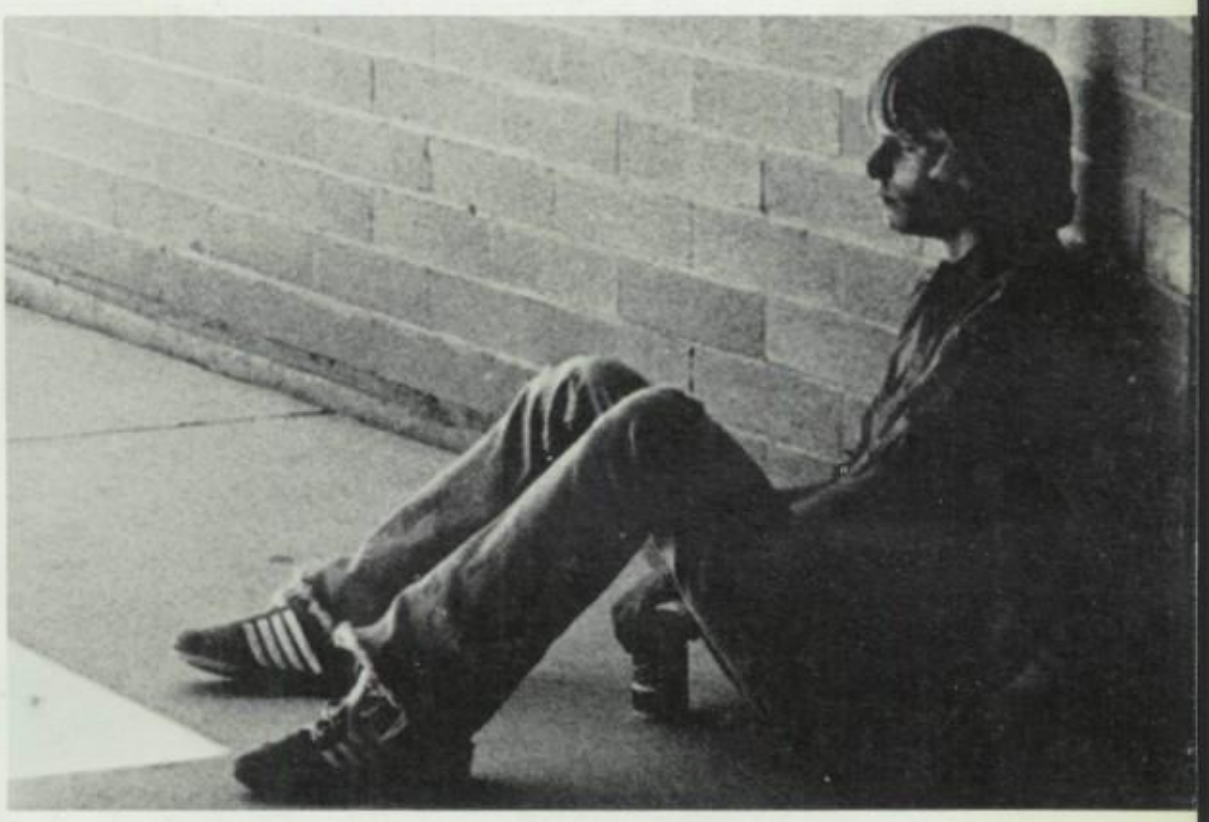
Marana High suddenly became alive once more, with the cheery voices of friends chatting in long lines, while waiting to pay their book deposits to the bookstore. These students talked about topics from summer vacation in Pakistan to who would be elected in the 1976 campaign for the presidency.

Most students realized that schooltime was really here when they went through the registration process. Each student was given a manilla envelope with their name, matriculation number, and grade they were presently entering printed on the outside of each envelope. Inside this envelope was all the material needed for a quick, and easy registration. Students emptied the contents of the packet and began to work on a schedule using the schedule that had been made up in Spring before school was over for the summer. Registrants worked diligently to get classes they wished to take to fit a time schedule. By using this time schedule students could find out what period(s) the classes were offered. After finishing a schedule students then went to the gymnasium to pick up color-coded cards for the period they wished to take each class. If a student received all the right class cards for the right periods, he or she then put the cards in order according to the period the card was coded for, as they did this, each student put his or her matriculation number in the upper right hand corner.

Once the registration process was completed the students turned in their cards, and was issued a locker.

The majority of students received the classes they wished to take, and as a whole the registration process went smoothly.





Remember your thoughts
while sitting alone,

Remember the help you
received from friends,

Remember the smiles you
exchanged with strangers,

But the hardest thing to remember is what happened
All in a Day's Time.

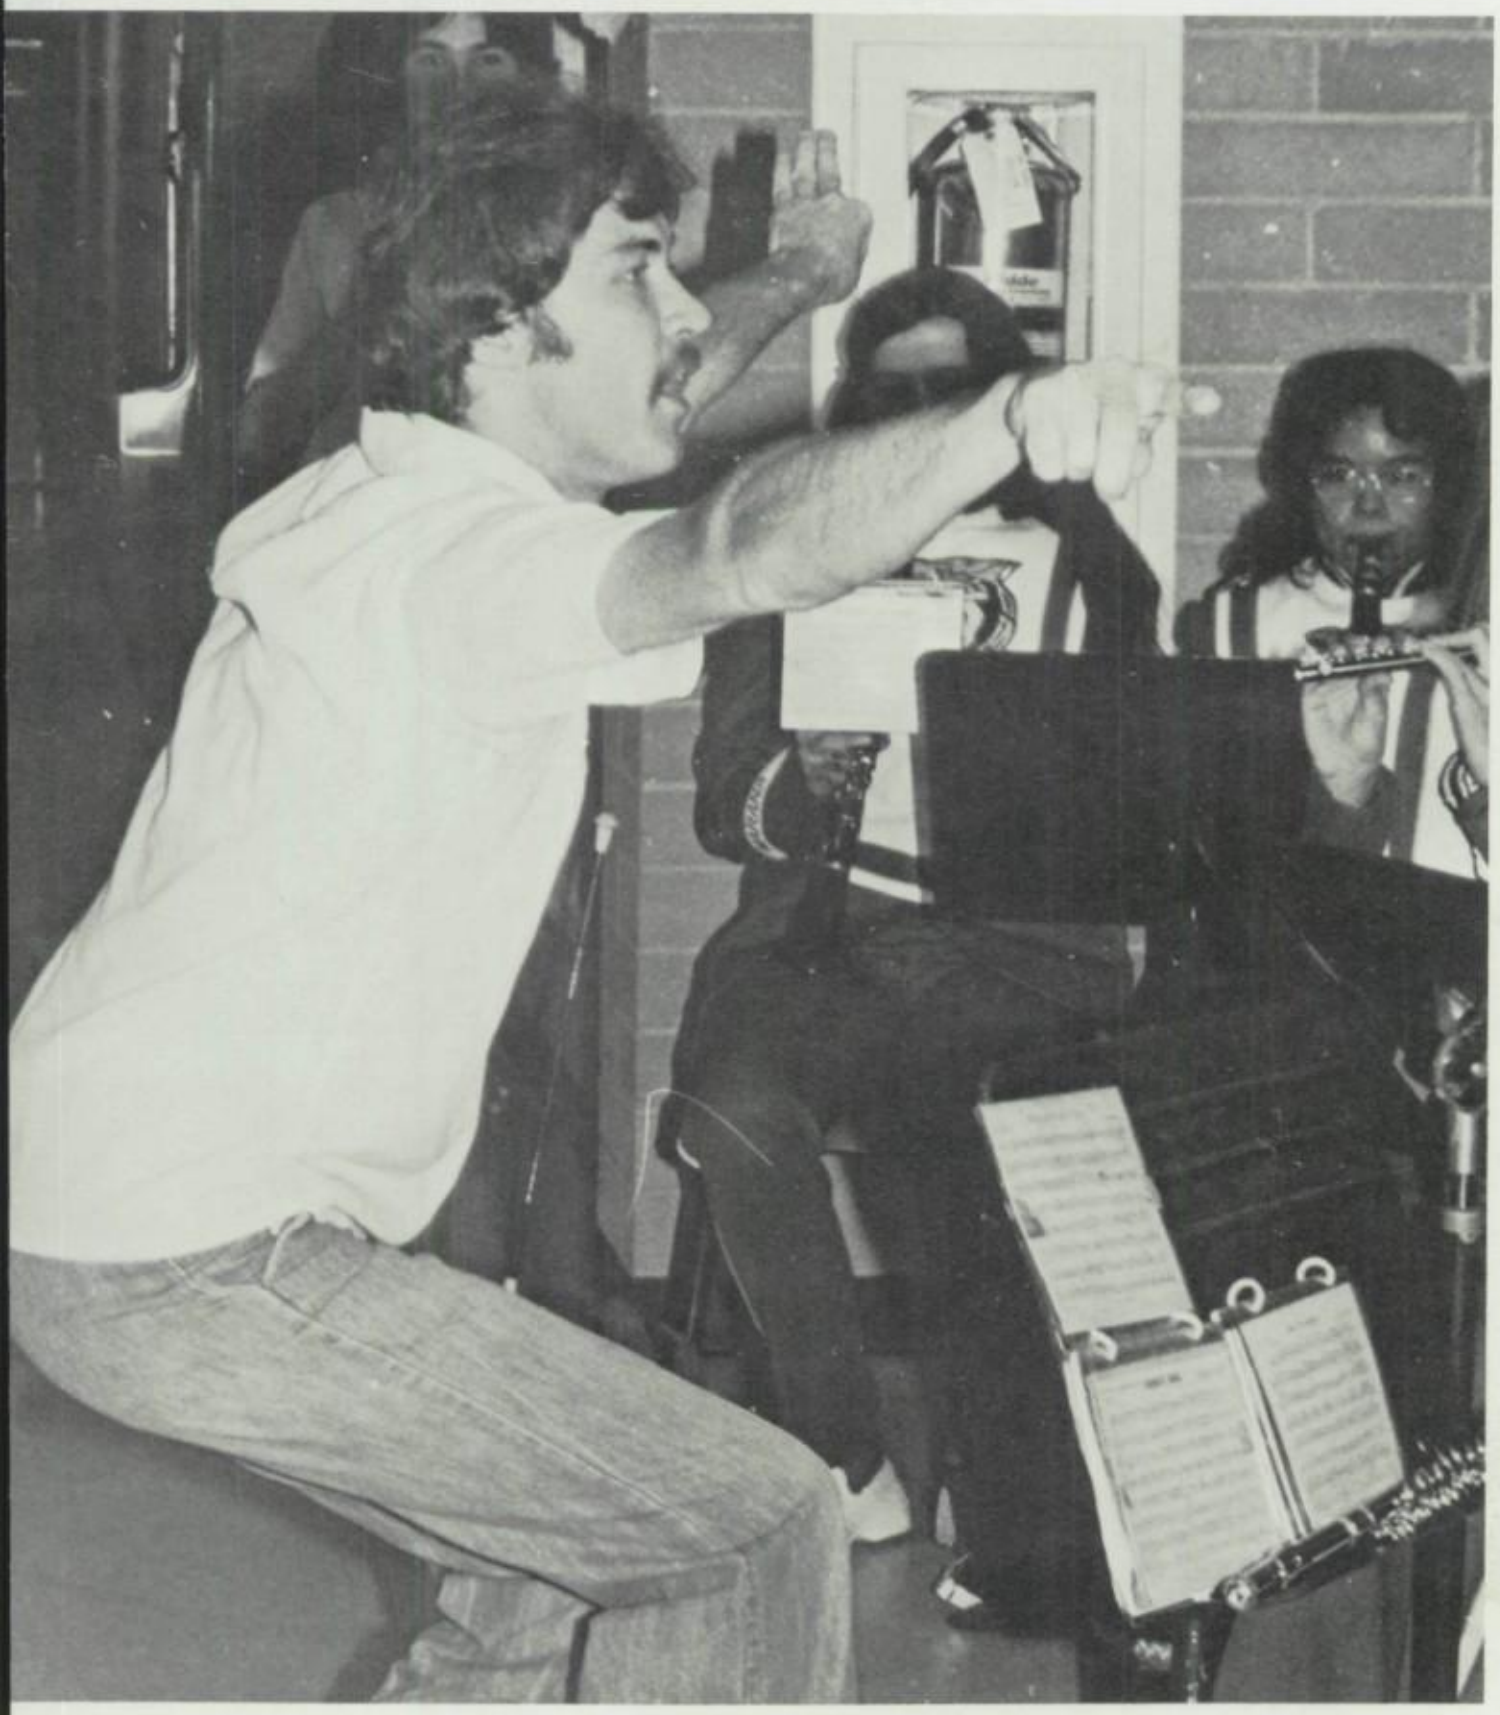
The sun has risen, and all is light, but soon the sun will set, and this campus, a stage for a day's memories, will be dark once more.

As each day passes, a memory is etched in your mind, until you soon have a year of memories.

This book is filled with memories and is dedicated to those who wish to remember the things that have come to pass this year.



All this . . .
and more to come

Newness pervades all levels of administration; Dr. Havens brings new era of optimism

New administrators filled posts on all levels this year. Dr. Nels Havens became superintendent and came to us from the Middle West with a long background in administration. A new board was elected in November and is pictured in the index. Mrs. Ina Stott, long time board president, retired, and Mr. Roy Woods, former high school principal became Director of Education Services. In all, a fresh era of optimism seemed to filter down to all levels of Marana School District.

Communication seemed to be the key to the positive attitude which renewed everyone's effort to contribute to the good of the school system.

Dr. Scott Foster, former associate principal, took on the principalship and managed the high school with a firm and decisive hand. Mr. Bruce Miller, former dean of students, became associate principal.

Mr. Wade McClean stepped up from biology teacher to the dean's position, but Title Nine said he could no longer be called BOYS' dean.

Girls', boys' deans solve student crises; Title Nine seen in deans' titles

Mr. Bruce Miller

Mrs. Florence Saltzman

Mr. Wade McClean

Mrs. Florence Saltzman and Mr. Wade McClean, as deans, frequently get to work only with problem students, so they are always glad to have the opportunity to communicate with good students.

Mrs. Saltzman was extremely instrumental in bringing entertaining assemblies to Marana High School like "Up With People" and "Great American Teen."

Mr. McCleans firm and consistent disciplinary action prevented many problems which might otherwise have plagued Marana High School, in the parking lot, on campus, or in classes.

STUDENT LIFE

Cowhey provides leadership for MHS Student Council

This year, Student Council worked hard to reach their goals for improvement of campus life. They promoted spirit by sponsoring Spirit Week and many other activities, such as Junior Olympics. To get the Christmas spirit going, they sponsored a dance, with music by "Force." They also led caroling in all the Marana school areas, and presented "Lost Horizon" at all the Marana schools. The Council worked hard to keep the students aware of what was going on. They held an open meeting in which all students were welcome to come and ask any questions of or about the Council.

Members bring ideas

T.R.A.G.Y.C. (Traffic Representatives of Arizona's Governor Youth Council) had a busy year providing traffic safety messages for the school and community. The members attended a convention Oct.7-9 in Phoenix, where they went to different workshops on traffic safety. In Jan. 24-28 they sponsored a TRAGYC week. They did such activities as car window washing in which they left a message about traffic safety, sold fortune cookies with a traffic safety messages inside, had a driving while intoxicated demonstration using two 19 year old University of Arizona students, they showed the movie "For Want of a Seat Belt," a film about a woman's real experience while she wasn't wearing her seat belt, and to top off the week they had a school assembly where Connie Sousa, the head of state, spoke.

The Arizona Assocation of Student Councils met in Windowrock, Arizona this year. The members brought back many new ideas.

N.H.S. helps community

National Honor Society (N.H.S.) was busy throughout the year sponsoring dances and providing community services. N.H.S. sponsored the first dance of the year and helped sponsor the Christmas dance. N.H.S. also provided more services to the community by giving free pamplets to help build reading skills. Money was raised for the annual N.H.S. banquet which is held in the spring. The new officers who were installed at last year's spring banquet are: Chris Bustamante, president; Susie Barnett, vice-president; Sidney Hill, secretary; Lori Patton, treasurer; Barbie Horton, Student Council Rep. and Annette Holt, alternate Student Council Rep.

1. TRAGYC members are: Peggy DeLuca, JoAnn Islas, Kelly Patton, Cindy Rodriguez, Geri Cashen, Doug Mifflin, Steve Somerville, LeaAnn Garrett. 2. # AMUN delegates; learn through simulation

The fifteenth session of the Arizona Model United Nations was held at the University of Arizona on Friday February 11 through Saturday February 12. During this two day period, participants learned more about the operations of the United Nations than they would during a year's study of them in a classroom situation. At least this was the general concensus of this year's delegates from Marana.

Marana represented two countries this year. These two countries were the People's Republic of China and the Seychelles Islands. Marana delegates for China received honorable mention for best delegation.

The Marana delegates spent approximately four months in preparation for this year's session. For most of the delegates, it paid off. One example is the delegates representing the Seychelles Islands were recognized as a member of the United Nations through submission of resolutions. Also, China won a case in the International Court of Justice, which was an advisory opinion on territorial ownership of Chenpao Island according to the Chinese, or Damansky according to the Soviets.

Marana had fourteen delegates in all. Eight of these people were Chinese delegates and six were Seychellean delegates. Marana hopes to enlarge their membership and participation in the sixteenth session of the Arizona Model United Nations.

Lettermen tackle new year with enthusiasm

The Lettermen's club is interested in getting more student body participation in the sports program. This year the club went to a Tucson Iceman hockey game and to a University of Arizona basketball game. Popcorn sales were the main source of income for the Lettermen. A big part of the club's activities includes initiation of the new members.

V-club and cheerleaders lead school in spirit

We've got spirit sure we do. We've got spirit, how about you? Two groups that help promote spirit around the school are the V-club and Varsity cheerleaders.

V-club, headed by Mimi White had various projects this year. They held breakfasts for the football team on the morning of their home football games. V-club decorated the football bleachers and made posters to add spirit around the school. Mom and Dad's night highlighted V-club's year. There was class competition in decorating trucks and wood piles. The bonfire was lit for the beginning of the game. The Freshman came in first, Sophomores were second, Seniors third, and Juniors fourth. The football player's parents were introduced at halftime. They were escorted by the Pep Squad.

The cheerleaders had pep rallies to bring Marana's spirit up.

Pep Squad achieved school unity by spirit.

This year's pep squad achieved school unity by utilizing their energy in spirit. Pep Assemblies, posters and decorated halls were some signs of their spirit.

Some other groups that backed the tigers were Junior Varsity (JV) Cheerleaders, Varsity Songleaders, Freshmen Cheerleaders, Junior Varsity (JV) Mat Maids and Varsity Mat Maids.

The songleaders performed at halftime during football and basketball season. They have also performed with the band up at the state fair.

The Mat Maids were the cheerleaders for the wrestlers. They sat along the mat and pound the floor for pins.

They've got spirit, how about you?

1. The Frosh cheerleaders are Karen Horton, Kelly Patton, Tracy Dobbie and Diana Young. 2. The JV Mat Maids are Tammy Bristow, Cindy Criss, Ellena Snyder, Tammy Omstead, Maurene Polashek, Monique Benauer. 3. Songleaders performing at a pep rally. 4. # Band and Chorus

The band began this year with marching season. To lead this year's band Laura Brannock, was chosen last year for Drum Major. To top off their performance during the half time shows, new uniforms were acquired, which added flash to the Band's sensational shows. The uniforms were designed by Mr. Neil Grissom, and the Drum Major's uniform by Kim Totten.

The short flags this year were: Lillian Dickenson, Rosanna Eason, Monti Green, Alice Torres, and Tami Bristow. Adding a little more life to the show were the new tall flags they were: Melissa Barry (Captain), Tammy Foster, Debbie Smith, DeeAnn Davis, Summer Hawkins, Carrie Hall, Patti Hansen, Darlene Griffith, Cathy Martin, Carol Ward, Suzanne Hill, Mimi White, Elizabeth Ramirez, Lupe Ramirez, Lauri Vaughn and Delores Schall. The Band also featured a sensational freshmen twirler Mary Halbach.

The Band plans to go to Disneyland, and raised funds all year toward this project amounting to around $3,000, by selling Christmas candles, Reese's peanut butter cups, and did a commercial for the Goodyear rubber and tire company.

1. The tall flags keep in step with the band, while performing at the State Fair. 2. Dottie James teaches the band something she learned at a Student Council Convention. 3. Laura Brannock, Sidney Hill, and Irma Lerma play a difficult piece during the Christmas concert. 4. The short flags put on a fantastic halftime show, during marching season. 5. Drum Major, Laura Brannock thinks up a new routine to use for the next halftime show. 6. Patricia Thompson, and Rick Davis add an interesting note to the annual Christmas performance. 7. BACK ROW: Edward Roach, Charles Doucette, Mary McGuire, Sherman Jackson, John Castillo, MIDDLE ROW: Jo Ann Islas, Sue Lewis, Crystal Foley, Tricia Thompson, Cindy Leon FRONT ROW: Laura Brannock, Lucy Rodriguez, Stephanie Tiffany, Sheri Gallego. 8. MIDDLE ROW: Julie Thacker, Wahanda Bailey, Michell Escobedo, Lola Ross, Cristina Delph, Peggy Gilliland FRONT ROW: Julie Ortiz, Tammy Davis, Lea Ella Harry, Vicki Angel, and teacher Mrs. Sue Gentry. 10. Ms. Gentry directs the Chorus in a new song.

BRING MUSIC TO M.H.S.

Chorus began a new year with a new instructor; Ms. Gentry. Many new faces joined chorus to add to the talent, and experience of old members. The talent possed by this group was brought to a good result by the direction of Ms. Gentry.

Combined efforts of the Chorus with, Band, Guitar, Art, and Drama, they put on a Christmas recital. This performance consisted of newly released music, to songs of Christmas around the world. Because of this participation by these groups the concert was successful, and enjoyable. Hopefully these departments will put on a performance of the same nature next year.

Next year's Chorus will undoubtably build on the success of this years Chorus. Ms. Gentry wishes to return next year, and lead the Chorus possibly to a high ranking in state competition.

Drama's various productions prove successful.

Drama put on four major productions and two talent shows.

The annual "Witchs' Brew" and Talent Show were put on in September. Drama did "Mash," followed by four one-act plays: "Cop and the Anthem," "Box for one," "Stranger with Roses," and "Cross Patch," which was used for entry of A.I.A. Drama-Speech Tournament in March. Another Talent Show was put on in January. "Raisin in the Sun" was done in February and Marana's first musical, "The Sound of Music," in May.

Newspaper emphasizes student life

The Marana HIGH TIMES Newspaper Staff, was the smallest it had been for several years. All seven members worked to produce a high quality newspaper.

The HIGH TIMES editor, Donna McWhirter, changed the format of the school paper this year. By reducing the type, more words could be printed per paper. The paper was available to students every Friday.

Ms. Taft was the new publications advisor this year and strived to teach the staff actual techniques of newspaper production. The result was an improvement in the school newspaper.

Diversified occupations offers job opportunities

The Diversified Occupations Program had an enrollment of 35 students this year. The class met with Mr. Hawkins bright and early every Wednesday morning from 6:00 to 8:00 a.m.

Mr. Hawkins helped find jobs which met the students' individual needs and interests. Some of the employers around the community included Sun Country Growers Greenhouse, The First National Bank and Bud of California. Others jobs consisted of working as dental assistants, school switchboard operators and kindergarten aids.

The D.O. program enables students to gain experience in occupations of their choice, preparing them for the future.

Yearbook, photojournalism work together

Yearbook and photojournalism worked as a team this year to produce the over $6,000 dollar project. Both ends of the production process tried hard to meet deadlines.

Photojournalism is the advanced photography class which is responsible for producing all the pictures for yearbook and newspaper.

This year's photojournalism class was fortunate to include several true camera artists who could create dramatic photo compositions as well as turn out many fine quality pictures on short notice.

"Chris and Barbie reign as Homecoming royalties"

The Homecoming King and Queen for 1976 were Chris Bustamante and Barbie Horton. Both are seniors and have been attending Marana 17 years. They were chosen for their involvement in Marana High School.

Barbie has been very involved in the high school since she was a freshmen. Her freshmen year she was nominated for a V-club queen candidate. The summer of her sophomore year she attended "ANYTOWN". Her junior year she was nominated a Homecoming queen candidate, elected into the National Honor Society, and was again a V-club queen candidate. Barbie's senior year, she was the NHS representative and involved in Yearbook and Publications.

Barbie has also been involved in Model UN for two years, V-club four years, Deans List four years, Tennis 3 years, and a cheerleader all four years.

Barbies hobbies are tennis, swimming, and photography. She hopes to major in Computer Science or Oceanography at the University of Arizona.

Chris has also been an active student at MHS. He was the Freshmen class president. His sophomore year he was class representative and elected into NHS. He also attended "ANYTOWN" his sophomore summer. Chris also played Baseball his freshmen and sophomore year. He was the NHS vice-president and representative and nominated a Homecoming King candidate his junior year. He attended "BOYS STATE" his junior summer. His senior year he was the NHS president and involved in Yearbook and Publications.

Chris was also involved in Model UN for two years, Tragyc one year, Deans List 4 years, and the Publications sports editor two years.

Chris likes to work with children and enjoys swimming. He hopes to attend the UA and major in Business. He later hopes to get into Law school.

The King and Queen were crowned at halftime and were honored by a special seating in the football stands. At the dance the royalty and their court were congratulated and were honored a slow dance.

Mom and Dad's night held in new stadium

On November 4, 1976, Marana held it's annual Mom and Dad's night in the new stadium, that had just been completed over the summer. It was alot of hard work for the builders, but well appreciated by the members of the audience.

As students rode in decorated trucks, how many students realized the total cost and effort, that went into building the structure surrounding the area they drove on.

Most likely no one realized, but the effort was put forth usefully. The cost of the stadium was $186,113.87, the contract was put out on March 9, 1976 and a certificate of completion was signed September 14, 1976.

Nogalas beat us that night, but not all was lost at least for the participants of the pre-game activities. These included a bonfire, and a variety of class competitions. All of this was highlighted by the superb halftime performance by the band.

You can never say this year was boring

Entertainment was never lacking this year. Clubs were busy raising money. The administration provided several very good assemblies including "Up With People", the Navy Soul Rock Band, "Spirit", and "Great American Teen." The Fine Arts department put on an Art Festival. three major plays, two talent shows, and a musical. Parades became part of MHS tradition thanks to the band and Student Council. The band was given the opportunity to make a nationwide television commercial.

Authentic hand-made tortillas were made into burros for students right in front of the snack bar.

Spirit Week promotes nostalgia and silly new fads

No matter what strange thing you could possibly find to wear during Spirit Week, you would be perfectly in style. Fads for this week included the latest in crazy hats, to the newest mummy mask.

Not only the apparel of students changed, but also the attitudes. The campus turned into a gigantic stage over night, many people displayed how big a ham they could possibly be. No one was excluded, whether they dressed up or not. Members of M.H.S. all got involved in laughing, smiling, or perhaps even building a pyramid.

Teachers also joined in showing they are into most fantasies. Some dressed as hunters, or farmers, but others dressed as something much more symbolic such as Duke or Duchess.

Everyone had a great time pretending, and just be a child once more, even just for a week. The change was a welcome one and will be repeated in the future.

1. Students find time during a busy school curriculum to build a pyramid during lunch. 2. Two Seniors take time out to initiate Freshman Jerry White to M.H.S. 3. # New division creates difficulty for Tigers

Winning was the only thing that seemed to matter during the pre-season openers to both the coaches and players, hoping to grasp the conference championship. But the agony of defeat soon took its place on the Varsity Football team as they ended their season with a 3-6 win-loss record.

Tough AA competition made it difficult for the Tigers to have a winning season this year. Added to the AA schedule along with Marana were Canyon del Oro, Globe, Safford, Douglas, Flowing Wells, Nogales and San Manuel.

The Tigers opened up the season with two early non-conference wins over Eloy and Gilbert but lost that winning streak resulting in the Tigers failure to win all but one conference game throughout the entire season. Individual talent became an added advantage for the Tigers but putting it together as a team became a problem.

1. Jerry Tarkington receives one of many passes to gain valuable yardage for the Tigers. 2. Larry Walker looks out onto the playing field confident of his team's ability to win. 3. Craig Bratton scrambles downfield to grasp the first down. 4. David Hamilton attempts to catch a punted football during the homecoming game. 5. Members of the Varsity football team are: FIRST ROW Manager Carl Anderson, Tim Escobedo, Fernie Lopez, Arthur Soto, and Joe Romero. SECOND ROW Dan Ramsey, Roy Byers, Juan Valencia, Joe Custis, Art Rodriguez, Raul Castillo, Bobby Islas and Jim Somerville. THIRD ROW Troy Denton, Jack Paddock, Bobby Holleman, David Hamilton, Mike Green, Jim Garcia, Ray Bomesberger, and Doug White. FOURTH ROW Larry Walker, Sammy Soria, Eddie Payne, Craig Bratton, Jerry Tarkington, Charlie Shemwell, Wayne Jackson, and Donald Schoonover. 6. An opponent's fumble alerts a Tiger defender, hopeful to recover it. 7. Marana's defense allows plenty of time for quarterback Wayne Jackson to find a receiver. 8. Jack Paddock strives to catch a difficult pass thrown to him downfield. 9. Craig Bratton rolls out around the left side of the line to enable himself to gain the necessary yardage. 10. A Varsity football player participates in one of the many practice drills needed to establish a winning team as his team-mates look on.

Even though the Freshman football team got off to a slow start and had a difficult time recruiting players, the team showed much improvement by the end of the season. The players had a very positive attitude and didn't give up. The highlight of the season, was a ninety-nine yard pass play, from Barry Antle, to co-captain Steve Somerville. The Frosh Season came to a close with a 1-8 record, due to the tough competition in the AA conference.

The Junior Varsity football team suffered losses, because of lack of participation. Although the JV had a poor record, it was a good experience, and the team will undoubtably have a much improved season next year with over half of the players returning. The JV team finished the season with many more players, and a 1-8 record.

CC team challenges tough AA opponents

Turning AA this year made it difficult for the Cross Country team to win as many meets this year as they have in the past.

The Cross Countrymen came in second place to all the pre-season meets until the mid-season crept up slowly but surely and caused them to drop lower in their team standings.

Twelve to 15 miles each day after school displayed the teams dedication to the sport.

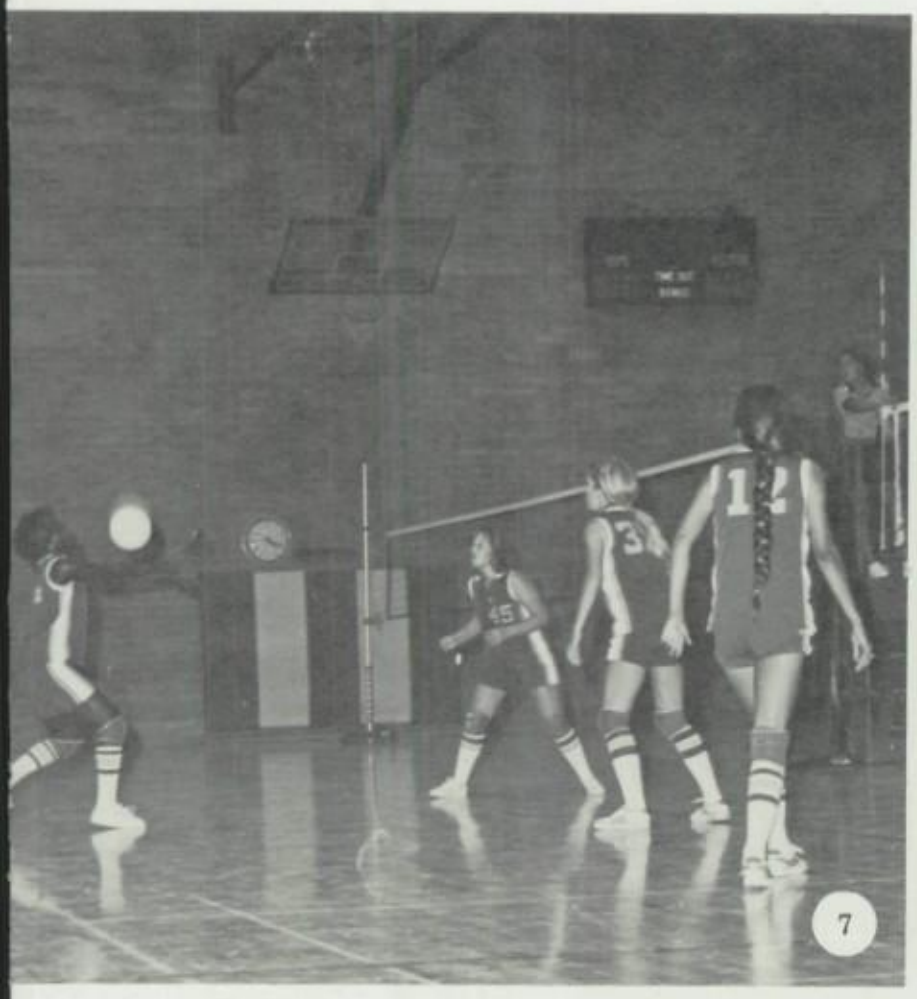
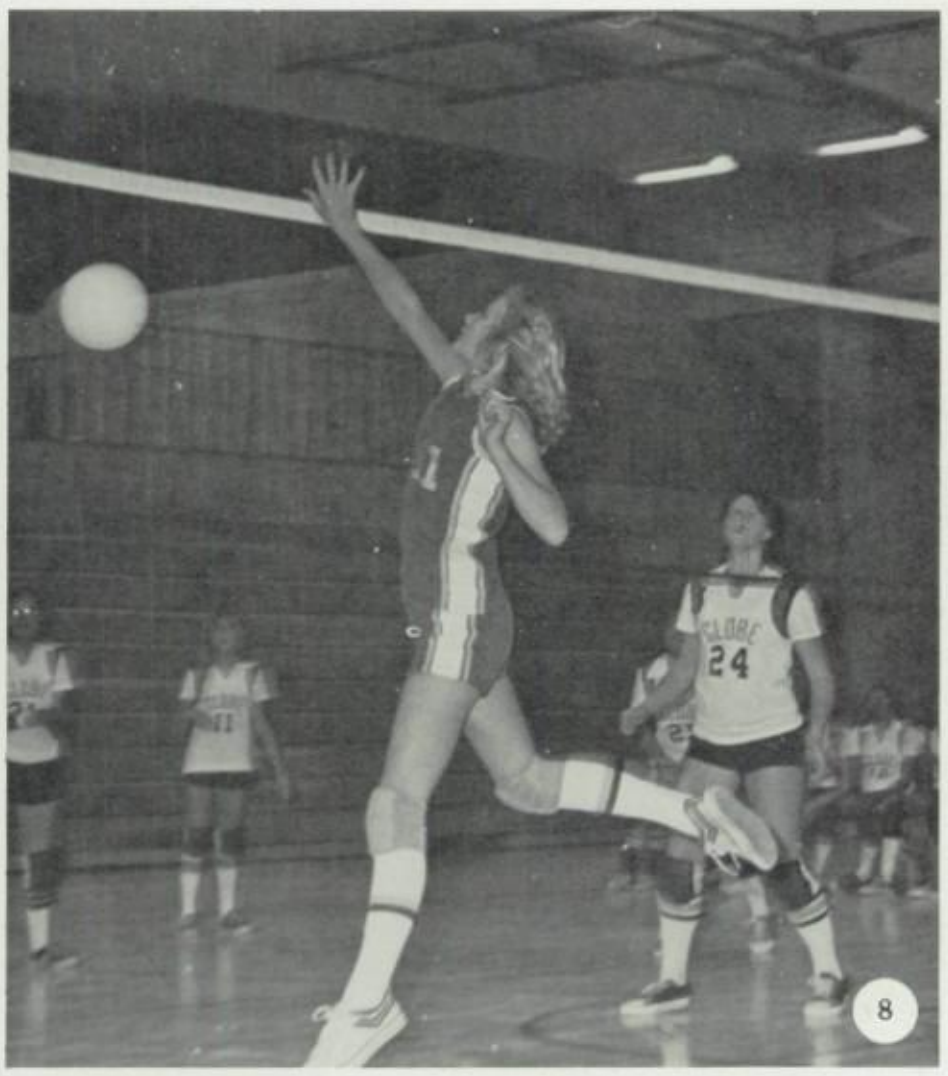
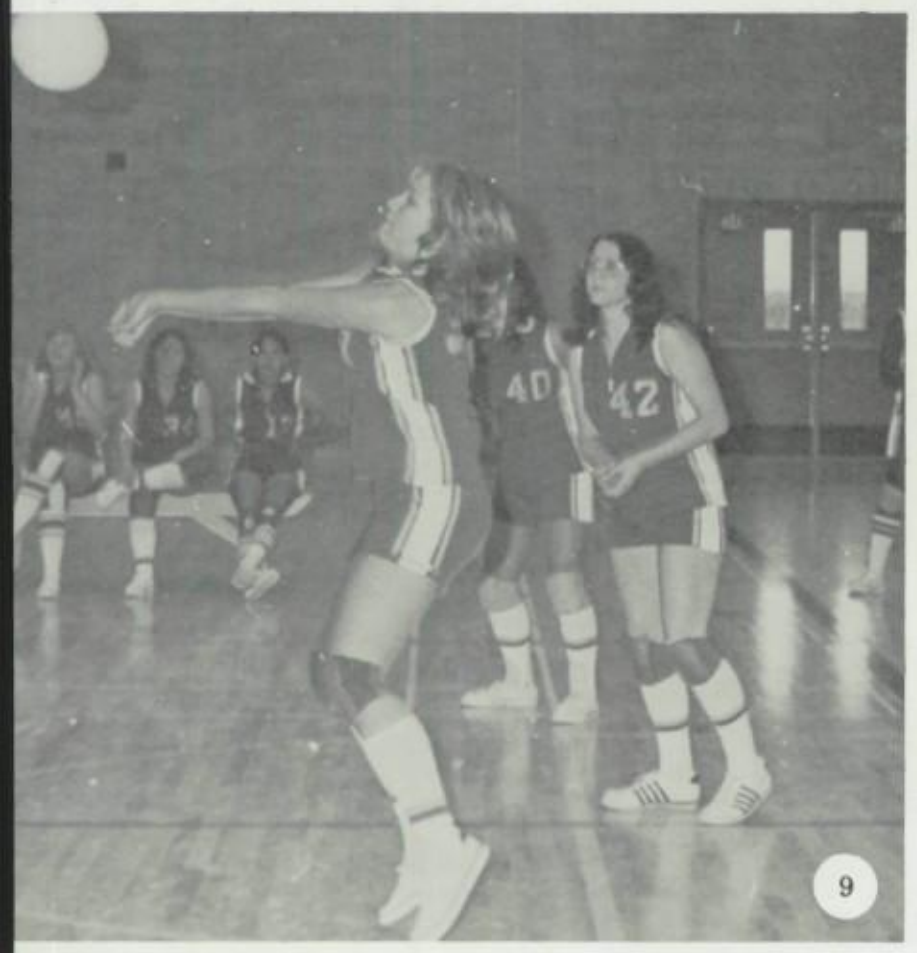
A beginning schedule of taking on most of the tougher teams in AA Conference kept the win column of the Varsity Volleyball Team low. Mrs. Carpenter began with seven returning players and some very promising new players. The scorekeeper, Maria Sanchez, was an asset to the team giving them moral support. Many coaches commented that our volleyball team was most-improved throughout the AA Conference. Mrs. Carpenter acknowledged the fact that this year's team improved in sportsmanship and cooperation. Coach Carpenter also said that the girls worked together as a team and this was a better accomplishment than a winning season.

At the Awards Banquet held on December 1st Coach Carpente awarded Judy Berry with a plaqu inscribed with "Most Outstandin Player" and to Elsa Sotelo went a award of "most-improved."

This year we had three girls nom inated for the AA South All D visional Team. They were Jud Berry, Julie Ortiz, and Donnin Pierson. During Divisionals







CDO, Judy Berry won the position n the 2nd All Tournament Team. This was a big step for the rookies n the AA Conference. This year's ecord was 1-6, giving AA competi- ion only a taste of Marana's abili- y. With the experience and recog- ition this young team has had, Mrs. Carpenter is confident the eam will do well.

1. Judy Berry tosses the ball high as she serves to her opposing team. 2. Julie Ortiz goes up to block a Flowing Wells spike. 3. Dottie James bumps a set high for her teammates. 4. Mrs. Carpenter looks on as Donnine tips the ball to her opponents in a pressure situation. 5. # competition in new conference this year.

Marana Tigers Varsity Basketball found the going tough in the new AA Conference. Inexperience with the new competition may have led to the 2-6 season record at press time, according to the team.

Coach Acker stated on several occasions that the players failed to perform with a team attitude.

1. Danny Harry attempts to score two for the tigers as a Flowing Wells defender struggles to block the ball. 2. Coach Acker takes a time-out to give a little advice to players Craig Bratton, Jack Paddock, Lonny Oswalt, Danny Harry and Billy Combs. 3. The members of the 76-77 Varsity Basketball squad are: FIRST ROW: Jeff Horton, (manager), Leroy Berry, Craig Bratton, Danny Harry, Carl Lee, Chris Harris and Billy Combs; SECOND ROW: Coach Callicotte, Jack Paddock, Jerry Tarkington, Lonny Oswalt, Roy Byers, Rodger Phillip, Mike Polashek, David Moyer and Coach Joe Acker. 4. Lonny Oswalt, Roy Byers, Craig Bratton and Jack Paddock all anticipate a tiger rebound. 5. Roy Byers gets the upper hand on the ball to open the game against the Willcox Cowboys. 6. Jerry Tarkington attempts to block the ball as Flowing Wells player looks toward an open man.

Coach says, "Cooperation is the key."

The Marana Tigers' JV basketball team started off on the right foot with a win over the Eloy Devils. Coach Callicotte commented that the team had an extremely good attitude, and that they worked hard in their games and in their practices.

The coach also mentioned that the team members had a great deal of respect for each other and enjoyed working together. It was the opinion of the coach that the key is co-operation when a team's effort is toward working and striving to accomplish a goal.

Coach Callicotte hoped that the boys got more out of the year than just playing in a winning season. They learned to have a team effort.

The freshman had a tough season this year entering AA competition. The team consisted of small players which was to their disadvantage. They tried, and they all got a considerable amount of playing time. The freshman team members had opportunities to learn basic skills of the game as well as learning to participate on the high school level of competition.

Tigresses try for success

This year the girls' Varsity team did very well. The coach was Mr. William Kreamer. It was his first year coaching girls. He enjoys teaching girls who are willing to give their time to learn.

The varsity girls record for this season was very good. They took fourth place in the Flowing Wells Invitationals.

Mrs. Vivian Antonik coached the girls J.V. She has enjoyed coaching and teaching these girls during the past years.

Tennis season opens with prosperous outlook

The 1977 Tennis team looked for a good season in the AA standings. The teams practiced everyday after school and showed excellent form.

Pat Boyd, who has been playing four years, has been Marana's top player for the boy's team. Tricia Yeckley, who also has a lot of experience, looked prosperous on the girl's team.

Mr. David Moore and Ms. Kim Holloway were the Tennis coaches and have great confidence in both Marana's tennis teams.

Well learned language;

In language this year, many new ideas were tried. The freshman English was one of these, in this class the student fills out a contract, saying what he/she is going to do that day, the more he/she gets done, the higher the grade.

Spanish also had a new class to offer. This class was created for advancement of Spanish speakers. All students who had completed Spanish 1/2, and 3/4, also native speakers, were allowed to take Spanish 5/6.

The library was open to wider use this year, because of furniture, and supplies it received at the end of last year. Ms. Allred provided help to students and teachers to make sure all the materials they needed were provided.

Events of past explored

Political Science was taught by all new teachers this year, with the exception of Mr. Joe Acker.

Teaching constitution were Ms. Yvonne Taft, Ms. Viola Marshall, and Mr. Calvin Falk. Each of their goals were similar in teaching as they tried to clarify the functions of the government, as well as, define its powers. They exposed their students to the necessity of becoming personally involved in the process of voting.

Ms. Marshall, and Mr. William Kreamer taught American History. Their classes were taught so that students might have some knowledge of where we, as a country, originated, and where we are headed.

And last, but not least, is Mr. Acker, teaching World History, who hoped to promote self-understanding in his students, as well as, of other people, because he felt people are responsible for history.

Science and math prove exhausting

This year's Science and Math department coordinator was Mr. Harry Larson, teaching Biology 1-2, Biology 3-4, and Science. The teachers working with him in the department were: Mr. Joe Brady, teaching Science, Chemistry, and Physics; Mr. Chris March, teaching Biology 1-2, and Science; Ms. Lorraine Callahan, teaching Biology 1-2, Science, and Algebra 1-2; Mr. John Callicotte, teaching Geometry, Algebra 1-2, and Basic Math; Ms. Canden Crie, teaching Algebra 1-2, Trigonometry, Consumer Math; and Mr. Gary Sawyer, teaching Algebra 3-4, Basic Math, Photo, and Advanced Photo Journalism.

Students participated in various activities such as, field trips to the Desert Museum, and games that related in learning how to count money. As one can see, there are eleven courses in the field of Science and Math that are offered to the students of Marana High School. Whether a student wishes to prepare for a college program or whether he wishes a general background for the practical application of Science or Math, this department provides the opportunity for learning.

Students commented on being exhausted by the end of the year because of the experiments and formulas that they had to learn in the classes.

Home Ec is more than just cooking

Mrs. Blinn's Home Economic class did a variety of fun things this year. They made carameled apples, different kinds of cookies and pizza made with mashed potatoes, which helps the dough rise better. They made pumpkin cookies for Halloween along with other desserts for the different holidays. Her class also learned about values of people, proper manners and drugs.

The child development class, one of the classes taught by Mrs. Krinke, learned how to work with and entertain children. They made masks, bulletin boards and did finger paintings. They also learned first aid for children, such as taking care of bug bites and black eyes.

Other classes that are taught in the Home Economic Department are Foods and Family, Vocational Foods, Fashion and Clothing, Advanced Clothing and Human Relations.

Vocational Shop classes challenge students with new techniques

After being asked whether his shop classes tend to keep people in school who might otherwise drop out, Mr. Neppl replied yes and also said it contributed to a better attitude in the students.

There are approximately 503 students enrolled in shop classes at Marana.

Some of the goals of the shop program was to have the students learn how to safely and efficiently use the machines, to have an advanced program of welding offered, to get a land lab, and to win the National Chapter Award.

Fine Arts involves many students

Every year is a new experience in each of the Fine Arts classes. Nearly every student in Marana High is enrolled in at least one or more of the Fine Arts classes.

Marana's Fine Arts classes in music are beginning band and band, by Mr. Neil Grissom; also chorus and guitar instructed by Ms. Sue Gentry; in the Dramatic field, classes like beginning Drama, Drama, and Stagecraft are directed by Ms. Joan Ebert. Ms. Kay Federoff influences students in introduction to Art, and advanced Art.

The opinions of the teachers of the Fine Arts department can best be summed up in a quot by Ms. Federoff, "I want all my students to have a rich, exciting and expanding experience..."

Band had a treat this year, they received new uniforms. One student when asked how he felt about band said, "The Band's spirit was boosted this year by the addition of flag girls and the purchase of new uniforms." Band also raised money for band trips to the STATE FAIR, and DISNEY-LAND.

Drama had many successful performances which included, talent shows and the ever popular M*A*S*H. Drama also hoped to put on a musical. Ms. Ebert commented that with each production she hoped the students would gain experiences in observation, concentration, and cooperation.

All the teachers feel that they can always look forward to improvement.

The Chorus enthusiastically sing along under Ms. Gentry's supervision.

The Physical Education classes were busy this year keeping in shape by doing exercise and running laps.

The Boy's P.E. classes tuaght by Mr. Dyer, Mr. Acker, and Mr. Newman, did weight lifing, played football, basketball and softball, and a variety of other sports. They challenged other P.E. classes taught during the same hour, and the losing team was punished by running laps or doing push-ups.

The Girl's P.E. classes, taught by Ms. Sublette and Ms. Antonik, did gymnastics, played basketball, volleyball, badminton, and softball. They did several exercises before each sport to loosen and tone up muscles.

Ms. Antonik taught the Pep Squad class, that consisted of all the cheerleaders and pom pon girls. The girls practiced cheers and worked on routines. They also made posters, running boards, and prepared for Pep Assemblies. After basketball season ended the Pep Squad class turned into a regular P.E. class.

A girl's Gymnastic team was formed this year by Mr. Chestnut. Even though it was an after school activity, the turn out was good. The girls practiced floor-exercises, vaulting, tumbling, and exercises on the beam. They learned how to do handsprings and walk-overs. The team couldn't compete this year but hopes to compete next year.

Offices make first Impression

Marana High School's front office is full of secretaries who are often approached by new and different faces. These newcomers form an impression of Marana by the appearence and organizational structure of the office. The secretaries work very hard to make this first impression a good example of school leadership.

The needs of students are often accomplished with one thought in mind, "The main goal is to make the students feel that this is their school and they may come to us for any assistance anytime." This is the emphasis the office tries to stress to the student body. The secretaries and guidance counselors work towards a communication development, not only between students, but also between parents and teachers. They feel that communication is an important factor in the progression of a student-teacher relationship.

Other duties taking place in the office are those done by our school nurse, Mrs. Paddock. The primary function of her job is to care for the ill and injured students and employees of Marana. The nurse's office is the emergency center of the school.

The attendence office, which is kept in accurate order by Mrs. Federico and Mrs. Paterson, is still another busy place in the office. They have the responsibility of keeping an up-to-date record of all absences among the students. It is also the duty of the attendence office to act as receptionist for the school, making sure that anyone coming through the front door will be greeted with a smile.

A good Example . . .

The office has a new face this year, Sarita Motove. She is the school psychologist and is more than willing to help anyone with whatever problems that seem to arise. Ms. Motove assisted the student government class with helpful hints about body language, and new and concise ideas about promoting spirit.

The guidance counselors are a very important part of keeping the school organized. They are always on the go, helping students with their schedules and even job careers. Mrs. McGahey, guidance secretary, has a busy job of trying to keep the counselors organized.

1. Ms. Sarita Motove, school psychologist. 2. Mrs. Sotelo never stops for one second, it's either paperwork or phone calls. 3. Mrs. Hiatt assists Mrs. Douglas as they work out guidance affairs. 4. Mrs. Federico and Mrs. Paterson work together to straighten attendence records. 5. Mrs. Thorpe takes shorthand for one of the deans. 6. Mrs. McGahey calls to see if a student's schedule can be changed. 7. Ms. Dorothy Hiatt. 8. Ms. Frances Douglas. 9. Mrs. Paddock checks David's blood pressure. 10. Ms. Motova finds a student's responsoe rather amusing.

The business, typing, and record keeping classes had a busy year clicking away at the typewriters and scribbling in the record books. The classes taught by Ms. Lantynche, Ms. Holaway, and Ms. Carpenter, took time writings, business letters, and learned other secretarial work. Record keeping and general business were active with office procedures and keeping the books up to date.

. . . prepare students for the oncoming future

1. Ms. Terri Lantynche 2. Ms. Kimberlee Holaway 3. Ms. Holaway observes students' assignment. 4. Ms. Lantynche helps Santa Claus (Jack Paddock) 5. Ms. Lantynche corrects papers as students look on for results. 6. Ms. Linda Carpenter 7. Mr. Graham talks with women drivers. 8. Mr. Paul Graham's 9. Drivers Education class takes time to pose.

the real-a-scope computer!

Time is money, and you can save on both the very next time you buy or sell Real Estate.

The Real-A-Scope computer matches houses with people in a way that makes "house hunting" a comfortable and pleasant experience. Simply communicate with the computer by filling out a prepared profile with the help of a video tour and a trained Real-A-Scope Realtor. Then, we tell the computer exactly what you want, and it finds it for you in a matter of seconds.

Now, the magic of Real-A-Scope. Chances are, the home that you and the computer have selected is on video tape. Right then and there, in the comfort of the Real-A-Scope viewing lounge, on a color television monitor, see the home of your dreams, interior and exterior.

Yes, you can search the entire Real Estate market without leaving the Real-A-Scope viewing lounge.

Insist on the convenience of Real-A-Scope. Call these member brokers.

TRAGYC week stresses importance of traffic safety

Geri Cashen worked hard to get a TRAGYC week approved by the administration. Approval was finally given for January 24-28, and the TRAGYC group set up an action packed week which included a motorcycle exhibition and a demonstration on the efforts of alcohol on driving skills. The purpose of the week's activities was to show the students how they could play an important role in the safety of all.

It was a long hard job for the group, but well worth it for the entire school. The week started off with Student Council washing windows of cars, and buses located around the school. Tuesday the group went to individual classes, and explained what TRAGYC is. Wednesday the student body was treated to a motorcycle exhibition, which showed safety tips for motorcycle riders. Thursday fortune cookies with safety messages inside were sold to students during lunch. The week came to a climax on Friday, when two volunteers from the University donated their time to do a demonstration on the effects of alcohol while driving. Just before break, Geri Cashen and Doug Mifflin tested the volunteers on reflexes, eyesight, and depth perception. After testing, the volunteers drove a course set up for them by the Highway Department in the west parking lot. The two then went to Mr. Graham's house where the alcohol was administered to them by the Highway Department, while Connie Sousa (State Coordinator for TRAGYC) spoke to the student body on safety and the use of seatbelts.

Afterwards a movie was shown, "For Want of a Seatbelt." The week ended with the two volunteers driving the course again, this time under the influence of alcohol. The volunteers answered questions from Connie Sousa and the student body.

Special Programs aid students

Special programs in Marana High School are offered to aid students who find it difficult to function in the regular curriculum. Mr. Fred Wilmshurst, guidance department, supervises Opportunity Hall, an alternative to suspension allowing pupils to remain in school who might otherwise not be able to continue their education. Ms. Joanne Ward, chairman, Ms. Sheilah Nicholas and Mr. Rick Valley work through the Co-op in the high school adaptive education program to help students with learning difficulties.

Spring Carnival held April 29;

The Annual Spring Carnival was held on the high school football field on April 29. The Student Council sponsored the carnival again this year. Any clubs wishing to have a booth paid a fee of $10.00 to the council and $7.50 for any additional booths. There was a variety of food booths this year, as well as the GAA Dinner.

The Marriage Booth was very popular with the younger crowd.

Lettermen's Club sponsored the Button Booth and sold buttons with school action shots, purchased from the yearbook staff.

The TRAGYC Booth was voted 'best booth.' A drunken driving test was provided and for a ticket, people were tested on how fast their reflexes were.

The carnival dance closed off the evening with sounds from Generation Gap.

The 1977 Track team had a successful season ending with a 6-2 record. The team practiced hard, which was rewarding at the meets. Coach Brady was proud of two outstanding members, Joe Custis and Bobby Joe Holleman. Joe placed third in the shot put, and third in discus at state. He broke the high school record in discus throwing 157'. Bobby Joe placed second in pole vault. Both won Outstanding Track and Field awards at the spring sports banquet.

The team had a lot of dedication and perseverence. Coach Brady said, "Considering their ages, they did a whale of a job!"

Tigresses pull through!

Softball finished its season with an over-all season record of four wins and fourteen losses. Even though their losses greatly out-numbered their wins, Ms. Perry Sublette, coach, commented that with each game the team improved. Coach Sublette also stated that the girls showed an over-all good attitude. The teammates' key this year was to set personal, and team goals and to strive for them every game, and set new ones after the old ones have been achieved. Ms. Sublette and returning team members look forward to a better season next year.

The track team also had a few set backs this year because of injuries toward the end of the season. The team broke quite a few Marana High School girls track records this year. Among the tracksters who broke records were Judy Berry, Carol Ward, Annette Willoughby, and Monique Bernauer, Julie Ortiz.

Although the team did not have a bad record, Carol Ward was the only person to go to state in the 880. After returning from state, she took eighth in state, out of twelve girls. The track having absolutely no seniors looks forward to a very successful season after the great success this year. In order to help long distance runners get ready for the track season, there will be a girls' cross country team formed if enough interest is shown.

Marana gymnasts spring into action

This was Marana's first year for a gymnastics team. The team was composed of seven girls who completed in six practice meets. It's a rule the team be competing for two years before it can participate in conference competition.

Mr. Tom Chesnut was the coach of this all-girl team and this was his first year of coaching. The team was required to do the intermediate compulsary routines and these were taught to them by the Sunnyside gymnastics team in a clinic held on March 18, 1977.

Four members of the team competed in three of the four events, the remaining three competed in their specialty.

The team had a fantastic season when you consider the size and experience. The team's best scoring meet was against Douglas with a score of 57-78 vs 91-35.

"Next year we'll beat 'em!" commented Lori Adolph.

Future looks good for JV, Varsity

Lonnie Oswalt commented, "I thought the outfielders did an outstanding job. Coach Newman commented that the varsity baseball team lacked dedication and therefore didn't do as well as they should have in the AA south competition. Mr. Newman also stated that the competition was much tougher and that because of the competition their desire to go to state lessened after each game.

Even though the team effort was not outstanding, on an individual basis, the team did well.

Steve McElhannon received first team all conference. His batting year included one homerun, three triples, and ten doubles. He commented that the team did not have enough discipline, and desire to go to state. Others that received accommidations in conference were Lonnie Oswalt, second team, Mike Twarog also received second team. Mike's comment was that they "needed more support from our school and infield!"

Mr. Dyer commented, "The Junior Varsity had more talent than any other Junior Varsity team in the state, but dedication was lacked." The record at the end of the season was 5-13-1.

The first musical ever presented by the Marana Fine Arts Department was "The Sound of Music." Leading roles were played by Kim Totten, Maria Rainer; Cody Eason, Captain Georg Von Trapp; Suzanne Hill, Mother Abbess. These people along with their supporting cast put on an outstanding performance that will long be remembered by many people.

7. Cody Eason as Captain Von Trapp and Kim Totton as Maria Rainer join in holy wedlock. 8. Herr Zeller, Rick Patton, comes to the Von Trapp villa to warn the captain of what is expected of him. 9. Mother Abbess, Suzanne Hill, and a nun, Angie Valles, pray for Maria. 10. The Von Trapp children play games with Uncle Max. 11. Mother Abbess blesses Maria before her wedding. 12. Maria comforts the children during a rain storm. 13. Maria Von Trapp reads the program for a festival that the children are to perform in, organized by Max.

Lydia, senior, voted as the outstanding worker in the Photo-Journalism Class, is shown involved in the production sequence for all photographers who accept the challenge of producing the pictures for the school publications. Each person who joins the class learns the techniques shown in this sequence. Loading their own film as preparation to any assignment, the students then take the assignment. After taking the requested pictures, they spend forty-five minutes in developing their film. The film is then printed as a contact and critiqued for the best pictures to fill the request. Printing the final product takes thirty minutes for the first print and five additional minutes for each print. In all, it takes a lot of hard work to produce a single picture, but a lot of personal pride results when this picture is used in the school's publications such as this yearbook, for which the Photo-Journalism Class produced 99% of the pictures.

I would like to express my deepest thanks to the entire staff of the 76-77 El Tigre. The staff this year included Geri Cashen, Business Manager; Cindi Roberts, Index Editor; Kristie Criss, Layout Editor; Patricia Twarog, Copy Editor; Barbie Horton and Andrea Whitaker, Student Existence; Tracie Clark, Headlines; Chris Bustamante and Susie Barnett, Competition; Lori Patton, Friends. The staff also included members who were required to switch sections almost every deadline, depending on where they were needed. They were: Lea Ann Garrett, Carrie Hall, Dottie James, Sue Lewis, Lindsey Machold, Donna McWhirter, Julie Ortiz, Ralph Philabaum, and Tom Thompson. Second semester Craig Bratton, Rick Davis, and Doug Mifflin joined the staff.

This year's staff started with one returning member: Kristie Criss. Ms. Yvonne Taft replaced Ms. Kay Ludeke as advisor this year, and has done an extreme amount of work to ensure Marana High a yearbook of high quality.

The staff would like to extend a special thanks to the photojournalism staff who supplied us with an unending amount of outstanding pictures; also Diane Herron, Lillian Dickenson, and Mr. Phil Dering, our yearbook representative to Joston's.

There are two people at Marana who I personally wish to show my gratitude. These people are Mr. Sawyer who put up with me, and Ms. Taft, because without her this yearbook would not have been possible.

In closing, I would like to say that this year has been an experience that I have enjoyed and been educated by. I wish every student at Marana High had the chance to learn and feel what I did working with some of the persevering people that I have this year.

Jessica,
Out of all the people I know, you are one of the funniest! I haven't been able to see you this year as much as I would like to. You are really nice to talk to. Have fun this summer and stay out of trouble.

Love,
Carol Ward
